Chantry Quire was founded in October 1999 by Christopher Larley (a Tenor Lay Vicar of Chichester Cathedral Choir) and Victoria Larley.

The Quire performs a mix of accompanied and unaccompanied programmes and has established a great reputation in the South of England.

Members of the 22-strong Chantry Quire come from all walks of life and are a mix of professional and amateur musicians who love to sing. The melodic sounds of their voices - and the emotion that they express when singing - are a joy to experience.

The Quire's repertoire varies from Renaissance to modern sacred works, together with secular pieces such as madrigals and spirituals.

The fine acoustic of the church suits this type of event perfectly. The candlelit, old stone walls will provide a lovely backdrop to what will be a stirring evening of entertainment.

Director — Chris Larley; Organist — Matthew Cooke
